Irfan M. Dinani is Counsel with Leech Tishman and a member of the Corporate and Real Estate Practice Groups. Irfan is based in the Pittsburgh office, where he focuses his practice on corporate and international law, with particular emphasis on securities, cross-border transactions, regulatory, and transportation matters in North America, the United Arab Emirates, and Tanzania. Irfan is also a member of the Data Privacy & Cybersecurity Group, and leads the firm's Emerging Cyber Technologies Industry Group. He works closely with the Estates & Trusts Practice Group on Islamic estate planning initiatives for clients.

Irfan has a wealth of experience in general counsel matters including drafting and filing company formation documents, negotiating license agreements, overseeing mergers and acquisitions, and preparing joint venture agreements, product supply/distribution agreements, and settlement agreements. He routinely counsels principals, officers, directors, managers and equity stakeholders and negotiates shareholders' agreements, operating agreements, subscription agreements, and other ancillary governing and share transfer agreements. In addition, Irfan drafts and reviews domestic and international contracts, advises on corporate procedures and compliance, and facilitates cross-border security sharing agreements.

Irfan has experience in a range of real estate legal matters, including preparing lease templates and negotiating commercial lease terms and contracts, for office, cell tower, and industrial sites.
