

Commercial Contracts

Leech Tishman's Corporate Practice Group has a depth of experience in navigating the commercial contract process to ensure business interests are protected while limiting risk, liability, and the potential for costly litigation.

Every day, business owners enter into relationships and contracts with vendors, strategic partners, suppliers, and customers. Our attorneys regularly counsel clients across a variety of industries on navigating the complexities of these unique relationships to make sure that a business' rights and obligations are accurately defined.

Leech Tishman's Corporate Practice Group understands the challenges associated with commercial contracts and brings a cross-disciplinary understanding to the development of each agreement they formulate for clients. We are committed to generating long-term value for our clients.

Leech Tishman's Corporate Practice Group attorneys assist clients through the entire lifecycle of the contract process including:

- Responding to requests for proposals
- Bid review
- Negotiating contract terms and conditions
- Drafting complex agreements
- Managing contract performance
- Resolving contract issues

Types of Agreements

Our team regularly advises clients on the development of contracts and agreements including:

- Purchase and supply agreements
- Sourcing and procurement agreements
- Sales and distribution agreements
- Shareholders agreements
- Employment and non-compete contracts
- Complex service agreements
- Intellectual property and licensing agreements
- Franchise agreements
- Partnership agreements
- Broker/carrier agreements
- Manufacturing, logistics, and warehouse agreements
- Outsourcing agreements
- Equipment and finance leases
- Research and development agreements
- Confidentiality and non-disclosure agreements
- Joint venture and collaboration agreements
- Loan and finance agreements
- E-commerce agreements