LEECH | TISHMAN

Public Sector Employment

Leech Tishman has a strong reputation for providing effective legal counsel to public sector entities, including cities, counties, townships, sheriffs and other constitutional officers, housing authorities, school systems, public colleges and universities, and other local governments.

We advise public entities on a broad range of legal issues, such as contracts, real estate, land use, construction, and government information.

Our diverse experience includes the defense of public sector employers in collective bargaining and labor matters, as well as wage and hour, discrimination, wrongful discharge and workplace injury claims in state and federal courts and administrative proceedings, including the National Labor Relations Board and state Employment Relations Boards.