LEECH | TISHMAN NELSONHARDIMAN

Due Diligence

Our attorneys consult with other attorneys and firms to provide due diligence support for a wide range of complex healthcare and life sciences transactions.

Firms across the nation routinely turn to our attorneys to conduct due diligence evaluations on behalf of their healthcare and life sciences transactions. Our extensive experience with licensing, reimbursement, regulatory compliance, and operational issues provides us with unique insight into complex healthcare transactions and industry standards.

Our lawyers provide legal guidance regarding due diligence matters across a wide range of transactions, including providing guidance regarding conflicts and disagreements that may emerge during the due diligence process.